NEGROES KIDNAP A WHITE GIRL

NEGROES FORTIFIED ON AN ISLAND

Eight Blacks Prepared to Withstand Assault of Citizens.

Girl Held by Band for Several Days--Community Aroused.

[By Telegraph to The Age.]
Fort Smith, Ark., Aug. 19.—Poses are organizing to capture a party of eight negroes in hiding on Bruce's island. The colored men are charged with the kidnaping of a white girl and the killing of a member of the posse which sought to rescue the girl.

It is feared the negroes' capture will lead to a bloody encounter. The negroes are said to be well armed. A few days ago two farmers living near Bruce's Rock landed on Bruce's island in search of plums, and accidentally ran into a camp in which there were two negro men and a white girl about 12 years old. They made some inquiries about the girl and the negroes said she was the daughter of a white man who was traveling with them and who had gone to Fort Smith for provisions. The negroes would not let the girl take part in the conversation, and this aroused suspicion. A watch was kept on the negroes for two days, but no white man appeared. Finally a party of farmers decided to investigate the case, and as they neared the island were fired on by the negroes and one of the party, Roland by name, was killed. A sharp fight was kept up for some time, during which the girl escaped from the negroes and ran to the white men. She was so excited that she could not give any intelligent account of herself. She said, however, that her father was not traveling with the negroes, but that she had been stolen from her home near Fort Gibson, I. T. She has been taken to Muldrew.

Roland, the dead man, was a comparative stranger at Wilson's Rock. Bruce's island is in the center of the Arkansas river, contains about 25 acres, and is densely covered with timber and thick underbrush. Poses of citizens left for the scene of the trouble from Fort Smith, Spiro, Muldrew and Fort Gibson. There is much excitement around the island. One or two of the negroes are known to be desperate characters.

VETERANS OF COUNTY ENJOY BIG PICNIC AT FAIR GROUND

The annual reunion of the Coshockton County Soldiers' Association is in session this afternoon at the fair grounds, and a large crowd is in attendance, representatives being present from all sections of the county. Many arrived during the morning, and brought well-filled baskets, and enjoyed a great picnic dinner at noon. The session proper, however, began this afternoon at 1:30.

General Lybarger, president of the association, presided with his usual geniality, and J. N. Collier, secretary, assisted. This afternoon an informal program of speeches, reminiscences, and stories of deeds of valor along the lines that make the most interesting part of the unwritten history of the war between the states is being enjoyed.

The reunion has many of the visiting First Call veterans present as guests.

PARADE OF VETERANS GREETED BY CHEERING THOUSANDS ON STREETS

[By Telegraph to The Age.]
San Francisco, Aug. 19.—The great day of the Grand Army encampment was this, when the historic parade of veterans took place. It was in sharp contrast with the run and dash of the young soldiers of yesterday's parade, but the veterans, though gray and bent, marched proudly in consciousness of having performed heroic service for the preservation of their country. Illinois led the column, followed by Pennsylvania. Then came Ohio and New York, followed by all the states and territories. The long line created a profound impression among the throng of spectators. Arrivals are now computed at 21,000 from the east, and 35,000 from California. Arrangements have been made for excursions to various points from here. Carl McQuinn went to Frasersburg this evening.

FRENZIED BY FIRE GIRLS GO ON A STAMPEDE

Explosion of Gasoline in Boston Factory Causes Panic.

[By Telegraph to The Age.]
Boston, Aug. 19.—Hundreds of girls, frightened by an explosion and the call of fire, poured from the upper stories of a six-story block occupied by several manufacturing concerns in South Boston and made a wild rush for the exits.

With no regard for anything but their own safety they plunged wildly down the stairways, some fighting their way through the human mass and trampling on those who had fallen. Several scores received injuries, but no fatalities have resulted.

Immediately following the shock of explosion a dense volume of smoke enveloped the building, and 250 girls employed by William Byers, manufacturer of lace curtains, on the sixth floor, stampeded for the stairways, the only exits, and, screaming and fighting, made their way to the ground. In the struggle many fell and were trampled upon. It was at first believed that loss of life had resulted, but a search of the ruins has not resulted in any evidence of fatalities.

The monetary loss is $150,000, and it is thought the insurance will equal this amount.

MIXED RACES FOR THURSDAY

The Gentlemen's Driving club will hold its matinee races as usual at the fair grounds Thursday afternoon. Beside the horses named in the following entry list of mixed races, there will probably be others started. The weather promises to be fair and a good crowd is expected.

FLEET OF RUSSIA DISLIKED

Looked Upon With Suspicion by Other Governments.

MUSSULMANS ARE READY TO MASSACRE

Bulgaria Mobilizes 70,000 Troops Ready for Action.

[By Telegraph to The Age.]
Paris, Aug. 19.—It is learned in official quarters today that an important joint naval action on the part of the powers may speedily follow Russia's naval demonstration against Turkey.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Aug. 19.—Fearing death, the Christian inhabitants of Uskub are reported to be living within doors, as a reign of terror prevails which is directed against the Christians.

The vali issued strict orders to the Mussulman population to remain quiet and not molest their Christian neighbors, but the Mussulmans, meeting in the mosques, have resolved at a given signal to massacre the whole Christian population immediately the first insurgent band appears near Uskub or on any other pretext. The Christians are terrorized. The Turkish troops, who are their only protection, do not show the slightest disposition to aid them. The attitude of the Turkish troops was recently plainly manifested when a trainload of soldiers, shortly after leaving Uskub, fired on the Bulgarian workmen who were repairing the tracks. Three of the workmen were killed and their bodies left lying on the line.

Telegraphic communication between Sofia and Constantinople is interrupted, the wires having been cut between Adrianople and Constantinople. No telegrams from Constantinople have been received here since 6 o'clock Monday evening. The Turkish officials at Adrianople refuse to state where the break occurred. Fears are expressed here regarding the safety of the railroad between Adrianople and Constantinople.

Bulgaria Mobilizes Army.
Rome, Aug. 19.—Private advices from the Balkan peninsula received here state that Bulgaria has practically mobilized an army, as the troops under arms in the principality now amount to more than 70,000, which is double what is considered as the peace effective. The Bulgarian government, however, is unwilling to venture for the time being on any hostile movement against Turkey, as it does not wish to lose the support of Russia. It hopes, however, that public opinion in Russia will force the government to help Bulgaria against Turkey, and the dispatch of a Russian squadron to Turkish waters encourages the Bulgarians in this view.

Bulgarian Leader Killed.
Sofia, Bulgaria, Aug. 19.—According to a report from Uskub, Michaelovskii, the Bulgarian leader, was killed in the fighting at Krushevo, while Boris Sarafoff, the noted insurgent chief, has been surrounded at Prassbalkan, in the southern part of the Monastir vilayet. The night train service between Salonica and the Serbian frontier has been suspended. Forty-three battalions of Turkish reserves in Europe have been called out.

Turks Lose in Battle.
Sofia, Bulgaria, Aug. 19.—A fierce battle is reported to have occurred in the neighborhood of Monastir. Three Turkish battalions attacked a thousand insurgents, and after the fight had raged for six hours the Turks were repulsed with the loss of 210 men killed and wounded. The insurgent loss is not given.

CAUSE OF CONTROVERSY FIRST CALL MEN ADJOURN

THE HISTORIC AMERICA'S CUP.
Famous Cup That Has Already Cost Lipton $2,000,000.

[By Telegraph to The Age.]
New York, Aug. 19.—Reliance and Shamrock III were measured in the Erie basin by C. E. Mower, official measurer of the New York Yacht club. It was announced that Reliance would allow the challenger 1 minute and 45 seconds over a 30-mile course. It was found that the Shamrock III was slightly longer on the water line than the American boat, but the latter proved to have nearly 2,000 more square feet of sail area than the challenger, and it was this enormous sail spread that taxed the American boat so heavily. The announcement of the time allowance in favor of the challenger caused little surprise at the yacht club, as it was the very general belief that Reliance would prove considerably larger all around than her opponent.

NEBRASKA HAS CANDIDATE FOR G. O. P. VICE PRESIDENCY

[By Telegraph to The Age.]
Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 19.—The Republican state convention nominated for associate justice of the supreme court John B. Barnes of Madison county, and for regents of the State university Charles S. Allen of Lancaster and W. G. Whitmore of Douglas. The convention was entirely harmonious and lasted but three hours. President Roosevelt received the heartiest recommendation and a declaration was made for his renomination. The unexpected feature of the convention was the adoption by unanimous vote of a resolution declaring John L. Webster of Omaha, a former Ohioan and prominent lawyer and one of the well known party leaders of the state, to be the choice of the Nebraska Republicans for vice president in 1904. Webster expressed his thanks for the honor in a speech of considerable length.

MILLER MAKES CAUSTIC COMMENT

[By Telegraph to The Age.]
Washington, Aug. 19.—The set of charges against Assistant Foreman Miller in the government printing office, made by the Book Binders' union, had been handed him by Public Printer Palmer, who allowed him several days to prepare an answer. Miller has handed them back, saying they are from irresponsible parties, based on hearsay, and too absurd to merit serious consideration.

Trades Council will meet tonight in Central Labor hall.

Alliance Gets Next Session and Also Gets Presidency.

REUNION WAS AN UNQUALIFIED SUCCESS

Campfire at Kenilworth Farm Was Jolly Affair.

List of Gallant Boys Now Here Who Rushed to Arms.

Next place of meeting—Alliance, Ohio.

President—Abraham Miller, Alliance.

Secretary—S. W. Secrist, Alliance.

Treasurer—J. C. Milligan, Coshockton.

Vice Presidents—Aaron Kille, Stark Co.; R. M. Voorhees, Coshockton; John Poorman, Muskingum; John Conwell, Harrison; O. G. Daniels, Knox; G. Dill, Mansfield; Benj. Beadle, Beaver Falls, Pa.; J. G. Fairchild, Lake; Daniel McKay, Cuyahoga; M. Ricksecker, Crawford; Daniel Curry, Wayne; William Nicholas, Franklin; D. D. Taylor, Guernsey; Henry Fitch, Holmes; D. M. Wilson, Tuscarawas; David Barton, Pennsylvania; B. A. Thomas, Fairfield.

The reunion of Lincoln's "First Call" men of Ohio adjourned this morning after transacting the above business at their session in the opera house.

UNANIMITY OF OPINION.

The meeting was presided over by President Voorhees of this city. Alliance was the only town voted on, so strong was the presentation of its name made by Comrades Miller and Secrist. If there were any other prospective places, they decided to retire upon hearing the glowing account of that city from the lips of its eloquent representatives. The choice was unanimous, as was the entire election of officers. The time of meeting will be in August as is customary.

The report of the retiring treasurer was read and approved before the adjournment of the session. General Lybarger, who was present, responded to a demand for a speech, and talked in his happy vein, and invited all to attend the county reunion at the fair grounds.

TUESDAY'S SESSION.

The meeting of the "First Call" troops Tuesday afternoon at Kenilworth farm, was called to order by the president, Judge R. M. Voorhees, at 3 p. m. with the following program: Chorus—"Star Spangled Banner," led by Mrs. Kerlin.

Invocation—Dr. Toland.
Address of Welcome—S. H. Nicholas.

At the close of Mr. Nicholas' remarks, he presented the president of the association with a large key, which he said would unlock Coshockton, and the association could walk in, and take possession.

Response in behalf of the association was made by Rev. Abraham Miller, of Alliance, to whom the key was turned over by the president.

An enjoyable solo by Mrs. Emma Wright was next on the program.

Reminiscences by R. M. Voorhees brought forth a splendid story of the First Call troops, and the important part they performed in the rebellion. Judge Voorhees did not claim for them that they were the only soldiers in the army, but it was the starting point and instilled into the hearts of others the desire to enlist when Abraham Lincoln's call was issued for 300,000 troops for three years, or during the war.

"The Flag of the Free" was the title of a stirring solo by Mrs. Wright.

ECZEMA SETS THE SKIN ON FIRE

No disease causes so much bodily discomfort, or itches, and burns like Eczema. Beginning often with a slight redness of the skin it gradually spreads, followed by pustules or blisters from which a gummy, sticky fluid oozes which dries and scales off or forms bad looking sores and scabs. It appears on different parts of the body but oftenest upon the back, arms, hands, legs and face, and is a veritable torment at times, especially at night or when over-heated.

In 1896 I experienced at times patches on the inside of my hands that itched and burned, causing much discomfort. As time went by it grew worse, and I was convinced that I was afflicted with Eczema. I consulted several physicians and a number of specialists, and used several external applications, receiving but slight temporary relief. In February I decided to try S. S. S., and in less than a month I experienced a change for the better, and by May all symptoms had disappeared, and I found myself entirely cured, and have had no return of the disease since. W. P. Hank Monk's Old Stage Coach

Hank Monk, the stage driver of the pioneer days in the far West, was immortalized by Mark Twain in his "Roughing It." The stage coach in which Hank Monk got Horace Greely to Placerville "on time," and the gold watch that was presented to intrepid Jehu because of his record-breaking trip will be among the interesting curios at the World's Fair, St. Louis in 1904.

Mr. J. A. Yerrington, of Carson City, Nevada's executive commissioner to the World's Fair, was in St. Louis a few days ago and told Charlie M. Reeves, secretary of the states and territorial exhibits committee, that Nevada would exhibit among other interesting things, these famous Hank Monk relics.

Hank Monk, as will be remembered by everyone who has read Mark Twain's first famous book, "Roughing It" was the driver who was in charge of the stage that carried Horace Greely into Placerville one evening in the latter sixties. Mr. Greely was booked to deliver an address in that mining village at 7 o'clock. The trip was tedious and the great editor began to fear that he would not reach Placerville in time to keep his engagement. He leaned out of the stage window and asked the driver, Hank Monk, if he could not entice a little more speed from the horses.

The imperturbable driver leaned down and replied: "Keep your seat, Horace, I'll get you there in time."

How Hank Monk kept his word is graphically recorded by Mr. Clemens. Probably no trip over the mountains was ever made at such break-neck speed. The distinguished passenger was tossed around in the bounding stage like corn in a popper and there were those who declared that Mr. Greely's head was forced through the roof.

The trip as the topic of the entire coast country and some admirers of the celebrated driver bought him a handsome gold watch. Inside the case appears this inscription:

Presented to Hank Monk in commemoration of his celebrated drive in landing Horace Greely on time. "Keep your seat Mr. Greely, I'll get you there on time."

At the time of the Greely ride Hank Monk was in the employ of Dr. J. M. Benton, of Carson City. Monk and Benton were close friends and when this old stage driver died the famous watch passed into the possession of Dr. Benton. Hank Monk was buried in the cemetery at Carson City. A plain sandstone slab marks the grave and in the niche cut in the stone may be seen a tintype portrait of the man who got Horace Greely in "on time."

Mr. Yerrington has secured the watch from Dr. Benton and will have it on exhibition in the Nevada building. The other Hank Monk relic which will attract even more attention is the same old stage coach in which Horace Greely took the famous ride. Mr. Yerrington was able to secure this and it will be taken to the World's Fair and will be used as the coach of the state by the Nevada officials. When distinguished guests reach St. Louis the old coach with a driver of the pioneer day in typical costume, will be at the Union Station and convey them to the official Nevada home at the World's Fair grounds. Then every day the old coach may be seen dashing down the steep hill from the plateau of the states to the mining gulch, where will be constructed a typical California mining camp of the Forty-Niner days. This trip will be made just as it was many years ago when the gold dust was daily taken from the mines to a place of safety.

Mr. Yerrington says that Mark Twain is almost worshipped out in Carson City. While he was known only by the name of Sam Clemens the author was a resident of Carson and was employed in a reportorial capacity on a paper in Carson owned by Mr. Yerrington's father. Much of the material for "Roughing It" was gathered in Nevada before fortune smiled on the great humorist.

LOCAL CORN CROP OUTLOOK IS VERY BAD SAYS AUTHORITY

"I have lived in Coshocton county all my life," remarked a well known Walhonding valley farmer to The Age today, "but I have never seen so bad an outlook for corn crop as there is this year. Cold nights and no rains, have stunted the crop wonderfully in the last couple of weeks, and I look for the smallest crop in the history of the county."

"Another thing that is queer at this time of the year, is that many farmers are already beginning to feed their cows on bran because of the shortage of pasture. The grass is burned to the dust, and there is very little good pasture today in the county. I hear that town folks who own cows, have been feeding them for three weeks, in order to get any milk at all. Rain must come soon or things will go to bad."

MRS. HELENA BLAV.

Young Milwaukee Society Women.

When thousands of women have written to tell how Wine of Cardui restores the system of health on every woman who takes it, it is a poor alibi. Mrs. Helena Blav., No. 123 Birch Street, Milwaukee, Wis., is one of the young women whom Wine of Cardui has rescued from a life of suffering. She writes:

The woman who has suffered from female weakness should do anything within reason to secure health. Wine of Cardui is the medicine that appeals to reasonable women—women who hold operations and cutting in horror—women who know that Nature is the best physician. Wine of Cardui gives women back their health by giving Nature a chance to build up the wasted and diseased tissues. Wine of Cardui regulates the menstrual flow and Nature, when relieved of the drains or of the poisons in the system, makes the functional organs strong and healthy again.

Any woman who is silently suffering untold pains because she is too sensitive to undergo a physician's examination and treatment can find no excuse for not securing relief when Wine of Cardui is offered to her. There is no publicity to deter her. She can take Wine of Cardui in the privacy of her home, with as much assurance of a final cure as though a dozen doctors recommended it. Many physicians do recommend Wine of Cardui to their patients.

What You Ought To Know About Ohio Tax Laws
A DISCUSSION BY
LAWYER THORNDIKE AND FARMER PERKINS
NUMBER TWO (To Be Completed in Ten Numbers).

FARMER PERKINS—I would like to have some instructions as to making out my tax return. I have ten horses. How am I to value them?

Lawyer Thorndike—The law requires you to value them at the usual selling price, but in reality you can put any price you please. If your horse is worth $80 you can safely put him at $40. A horse worth $450 could safely be put at $75—cattle, mules, sheep and hogs may be valued in the same manner. Pleasure carriages costing $200 to $400 can be safely valued at $40 to $80 and will not be inquired after. You cannot expect a bicycle on the tax list at over $10, no matter what the machine cost. Household goods are valued according to the conscience of the tax lister. Goods costing $1,500 in cash can be safely returned at $300. This item 7 on the tax list is always given in the aggregate by the lister, and in practice his valuation is never inquired into. As to jewelry, that is scarcely ever returned as a separate item. Farmers' utensils are only returned at a nominal price, 10 to 25 per cent of cost. As to watches, anywhere from $10 to $40 will go. Pianos costing as much as $300 are usually returned at $40 to $50. Item-10, average value of merchandise, is returned at whatever the lister wishes to put down, and this usually ends it.

Farmer Perkins—Do I understand that each merchant actually values his own goods, and that is the end of it?

Lawyer Thorndike—That is the case. No man can be compelled to give evidence against himself. The tax return is made upon oath, and the violation of that oath is said to be perjury. No lister who has made a list and sworn to it can be compelled to show its falsity.

Farmer Perkins—Suppose my neighbor Abel Jones was conducting a clothing store, selling ready-made clothing, and had $12,000 average stock on hand the year preceding on the day of the tax levy, but only returned it at $4,000. How can the tax authority get at the $12,000 valuation?

Lawyer Thorndike—The tax board must be able to prove by legal evidence that Abel Jones had a $12,000 average stock on the year preceding his return. The Board of Equalization cannot compel Abel Jones to give evidence to prove the average value was $12,000, and unless some of his clerks or his book-keeper inform the tax authorities that Abel Jones had $12,000 average stock it will never be known. A clerk who would give such information would lose his place, and no other house, knowing his conduct, would employ him. Hence the side avenues of information as to the real value of Abel Jones' stock are not open to the tax boards. Self-interest of the parties having the knowledge prevents them from disclosing anything to tax boards.

Farmer Perkins—If Abel Jones had $12,000 average stock of goods and returns but $4,000, is there no way he can be compelled to return the $12,000?

Lawyer Thorndike—No one but Abel Jones, his clerks and book-keeper, knows that his stock which he returned at $4,000 should have been returned at $12,000. Members of tax boards are never given any information of this kind. To do so is considered dishonorable. No competitor would inform for fear of being informed on. No clerk of Abel Jones would inform upon him. Hence the tax board can never know that Abel Jones' stock of goods returned at $4,000 should have been returned at $12,000.

Farmer Perkins—But would not Abel Jones in such case be guilty of perjury?

Lawyer Thorndike—A case of perjury couldn't be made out against him. Farmer Perkins—Why not?

Lawyer Thorndike—To amount to perjury, it would have to be shown that he knew the average stock was $12,000. Value is scarcely ever a matter of fact, but a matter of opinion. Abel Jones could say that in his opinion the goods were worth but $4,000. He could furnish a dozen or more plausible reasons for such opinion, and as our Independence Day orators have taught us that each free-born American citizen is entitled to his own opinion, and that it is a sacred right to have it, no matter how unreasonable or absurd, Abel Jones could insist that he had a right to believe his $12,000 stock was only worth $4,000, and no one could gainsay him. He could undoubtedly give many well-grounded reasons for his opinion, and as a result he could not be convicted of perjury in swearing that the average value of a stock of goods invoiced at $12,000 was only worth $4,000 for taxation.

Farmer Perkins—Do I understand then that each merchant can practically and in effect fix the value of his own goods for taxation?

Lawyer Thorndike—That is the case and the state does not and cannot prevent it. The local assessor is falsely so called. When it comes to merchants' and manufacturers' returns the real assessor in each case is the person who makes the tax returns. He values his personal property as low as his conscience will permit, and there is practically no way in which to review his action. If he has sufficient nerve and a lawyer who understands the law on the subject, no Board of Equalization can, in nine cases out of ten, ascertain the real value of his stock. And "real value" has great fluctuations and is a matter of opinion. The Board of Equalization can act only in a few cases, and the tax bearer has twenty chances that his tax list will not be inquired into to one that it will.

Farmer Perkins—Practically, then, Abel Jones, with a stock of $12,000 in clothing, can fix his own assessment?

Lawyer Thorndike—Yes, that is the case. In 1846 a madman seized the legislature to tax everything ad valorem, according to its true value in money. It was then the legislature of Ohio began the task of Sisypheus, in the taxation of personal property, moneys and credits. The same wild, unreasonable sentiment prevailed in the constitutional convention of 1851, and appears in our present constitution.

Alfred Kelley, in the Senate in 1845 and 1846, was the great apostle of the taxation of all classes of personal property. He imagined he could work out his theory, and to begin with he made every man his own assessor. This produced inequality where he expected equality.

The best men in the community took advantage of the situation, and gave notes to their sons and daughters in large amounts enough to cover their credits. All sorts of devices to prevent the return of credits were resorted to, and Mr. Kelley's theory was defeated at the outset. And yet had Mr. Kelley studied the subject, he would have found that his theory had been attempted to be carried into practice 400 years before his time and had signally failed. To illustrate, I know a certain town where there are ten merchants in the same line of business. Nine of them understood the way to work the tax laws, and returned their stocks at about one-tenth of their value. The tenth merchant believed the tax laws as they read, and each year, for ten years, returned his stock of goods at full value. The state made no complaint against the nine, and in the tenth year, the tenth merchant discovered that he had been returning his stock at full value, while his nine competitors had returned theirs away below. He consulted a lawyer about it, and was advised to return his goods thereafter on his competitors' plan, which he did, and there was no complaint against him, as there had been none against competitors for the previous ten years. Of course the honest merchant saw that he had robbed himself and that the state had taken his money and not sought to compel his competitors to live up to the law as he had done. When the state encourages its citizens to follow a certain course, it ought to compel the others who will not to do the same, but it does not, and in fact it is powerless to do so.

For fifty-eight years the state has maintained schools for moral perjury. It has sought and is now seeking to destroy all respect for oaths and for the sanctions of religion. It annually gives lessons in the disregard of both divine and human law.

It pretends it will make all its citizens return all their property, money, credits, etc., at full value, but never has done so, never can do so, and never will do so. Its laws are only a burden on the conscience of those who possess conscience, and it obtains full returns only from that class, from those who have nothing to conceal, from widows, orphans and trustees. Laws which thus operate are a disgrace to the state, and tend to demoralize its citizens. It is time the citizens of Ohio should cease to be hypocrites, should look each other in the face and tell the truth.

NOMINATED IN THE BOND.

C. E. Anderson Gives His Signed Bond to Return Money if Mi-on-a Does Not Restore Health.

Have C. E. Anderson sign this bond, when you buy a box of Mi-on-a, the great flesh-forming food and digestion regulator.

GUARANTEE BOND

I hereby agree to refund the price paid for Mi-on-a, if the purchaser tells me that it has not increased flesh and given freedom from stomach troubles. Signed.....

If food fails to assimilate, it does not properly nourish. A little food thoroughly assimilated is better than a great mass of food that is undigested and passes through the system without nourishing.

Mi-on-a, the wonderful flesh-forming food, helps the food to assimilate, and soon shows by a steady gain in weight that it will restore health and flesh.

It never fails to build up good, solid flesh, regulate digestion and give tone and strength to the digestive organs, so that dyspepsia is a thing of the past.

Read carefully the guarantee bond above and you will see that C. E. Anderson has so much faith in Mi-on-a that he will sign a bond to refund the money if Mi-on-a does not oall that is claimed for it. Cut out this bond, take it to his store today, and when you buy a box of Mi-on-a, ask him to sign it. Let him take all the risk. 40

Secretary J. J. Burns, of Defiance, then gave a resume of the work done by the teachers and recommended closer union for this purpose.

THE FEDERATION.

Prof. S. K. Mardis, of Scio college, addressed the institute on the subject of The Ohio Teachers' Federation, presenting the aims and plans of this organization.

Its aim is to place the entire man- agement of the public schools upon an educational basis. It seeks higher qualifications for teachers, profession- al recognition, and better salaries.

This movement for a teachers' fed- eration originated from a paper read by Supt. Mertz, of Steubenville, at the Eastern Ohio Teachers' associa- tion, which met at Coshocton in No- vember, 1900.

Thus Coshocton may be considered the birthplace of this movement.

There is no doubt but that the 30,- 000 teachers of Ohio will in a few years be thoroughly organized.

TWO BUNKO MEN POSING AS TOBACCO MAGNATES TOUCH A COSHOCTON FARMER

William Scheetz Loses a Dollar but Be- comes Rich in Experience Through Carnival Sharps.

William Scheetz, a farmer living near Coshocton, was the victim of two confidence men who were in the city with the carnival company last week, one of whom brought with him Miss Mabel "Marble," as she gave her name here.

On the street Mr. Scheetz met one of the men who stated that he represented a large tobacco concern, which was advertising extensively, and needed agents near all the large towns to tack up signs, etc., through the country. Mr. Scheetz replied that he was too busy harvesting his crops to take charge of the work, but that he had two sons whom he thought would fill the bill. The glib-tongued tobacco magnate immediately invited the credulous farmer to his private office just above the railroad.

SCHEME HATCHED.

William and his olly-tongued acquaintance walked up Main street together. A train was passing as they reached the Main street crossing and the stranger suggested to Scheetz that they walk out North Fifth street. They stopped near Eckert's stable and the stranger began to explain their system of advertising. He stated that in addition to liberal salaries the company he represented was accustomed to give prizes to its agents for the largest amount of work done within specified periods. Also that they conducted a system of drawing.

Each agent was allowed to draw a card which might or might not call for a large prize.

LUCKY WILLIAM.

To illustrate he pulled out a pack of dirty cards and asked Mr. Scheetz to kindly draw one out. William's eyes left the depths of their sockets and came out on a line with his nose when he read on the card which he had drawn "Fifty dollars." He was requested to draw another and drew another fifty.

Just then another individual, who green goods world as a "capper," came up and unconcernedly "buted in." The other stranger interested the newcomer in the scheme and in a short time he was as much interested, apparently, as was William Scheetz.

Mr. Scheetz told the newcomer what he had just done. The second stranger seemed loath to believe and offered to bet a dollar that neither of the two could draw another fifty. The first stranger expressed his regret that he did not have a dollar in change.

TOO KIND HEARTED.

William was not a betting man but offered to lend a dollar to the man who was short of change.

The loan was accepted and the second stranger held the cards, while the first one drew. Of course it was a blank. William's hopes fell.

His two acquaintances suddenly thought themselves of a pressing engagement and bidding him a hasty adieu they departed. That was the last William ever saw of his dollar.

RUN OUT OF TOWN.

He notified the authorities and the two men were locked up. The charge entered against them was somewhat flimsy however and as they had no money, Mayor Rinner decided to drive them out of town rather than burden the city with the expense of sending them to the work house.

They were released and lost no time in getting out of town.

Set Aside Big Verdict.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 19.—In the United States court Judge Bellinger set aside the verdict of $22,500 awarded by a jury recently in the breach of promise suit of Miss Birdie McCarthy, a schoolteacher of Wayne, Mich., against James Heryford, a banker and wealthy cattleman of Lake county, Ore. Miss McCarthy sued for $70,000. Judge Bellinger said the verdict was so excessive as to imply that the jury acted under the influence of passion or prejudice.

Unable to Reach Dawson.

Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 19.—A special train from Dawson says that every available steamer of the lower Yukon is being commissioned in an organized effort to move the vast quantity of freight at St. Michaels, the moving of which has been delayed owing to the low water below Dawson. The water this season has been the lowest for years, and so far but three down river steamers have been able to reach Dawson with supplies from St. Michaels. Many of the old steamers that are now being commissioned have been laid up for several years.

May Open Negotiations.

Colon, Aug. 19.—The statement made in a dispatch from Foreign Minister Rico to Señor Herran, the Colombian minister at Washington, announcing the rejection of the canal treaty, and which was published here, to the effect that the Colombian congress may probably furnish a basis for a resumption of negotiations with the United States government, has caused a more hopeful feeling in some quarters with regard to the ultimate fate of the treaty. The whole isthmus is anxiously awaiting the future action of the United States.

Rioters Shot Down.

Vienna, Aug. 19.—A fresh outbreak of rioting has occurred in Croatia. At Seaspred, upon the occasion of the celebration of the birthday of Emperor Francis Joseph, 1,000 peasants gathered in the town and destroyed a Hungarian banner. The rioters were resisted by the gendarmes, who shot three men and wounded many others. At Komesina the peasants pillaged stores and stoned the military, who killed two persons and wounded a number of rioters.

Result of Mutiny.

Halifax, Aug. 19.—As the result of mutiny aboard the British bark Egeria Hantsport, Captain Langille is in a hospital at Halifax badly injured, and five of the crew are in jail at Windsor.

Big Foreclosure Suit.

New York, Aug. 19.—An action was commenced in the United States circuit court by the New York Security and Trust company against the United States Shipbuilding company and James Smith, Jr., receiver, to foreclose a mortgage given by the shipbuilding company to the trust company as trustees to secure the payment of a series of 25-year 5 per cent collateral mortgage bonds, amounting to $10,000,000. The mortgage covers all the property of the shipbuilding company and the capital stock of the Bethlehem Steel company.

Ended His Life.

St. Louis, Aug. 19.—A man 30 years of age, giving the name of Victor Fassel of Memphis, Tenn., took a dose of strychnine at a small hotel here and later was found in a dying condition by the clerk. He had rented a room an hour previous. He was taken to the hospital, and may die. Fassel would give no information concerning himself beyond saying that he recently returned from Germany and was engaged in the lumber business in Memphis.

Test Torpedo Boat Destroyer. Newport, R. I., Aug. 19.—It was demonstrated to the satisfaction of the government officials that the torpedo boat destroyer Hull is a success from every standpoint, and the trial board has decided to recommend that she be accepted by the government. The trial was held outside of Newport in a sea described by naval men as from smooth to rough. The boat was handled under the direction of the board of inspectors and survey.

Russia's Fair Commissioner. New York, Aug. 19.—The chairman to the Fair of Russia, S. W. Alexandrovsky, commissioner general for the Russian empire, is the Louisiana Purchase exposition, arrived on the Kaiser Wilhelm II on route to St. Louis to perfect details for the presentation of the country in the exposition. He is accompanied by...

CLOTHES and CLOTHIERS

Of course I know something about clothes. I have always, in deference to the tyranny of fashion and a severe climate, worn clothes; not always such clothes as I desired to wear, but still by courtesy clothes. When I was a boy children were not pampered as they are now. Lilliputian bazars were infrequent. As a rule, our clothes had been worn previously by some adult relative of an entirely different style of architecture. Our mothers used to lay us on the floor, mark around us with a piece of chalk and bew out alleged garments from these hand me downs. The results were serviceable rather than natty.

I recollect appearing at school one day in a suit carved out of my uncle's army overcoat. I entered with some misgivings. I was received with enthusiasm. Remarks were made calculated to wound my feelings. In order to provide against a habit I had of growing rapidly, tucks had been made in the trousers, intended to be let out from time to time. The effect was more striking and bizarre than fashionable. It was common gossip at the time that army clothes were made of shoddy, a poor, flimsy material. The gossip was unfounded. My suit wore like iron. I tried to wear it out. I spent hours sliding down cellar doors and sitting in custard and cranberry pies and spilling food on myself, but that hateful army overcoat was indestructible and imperishable. Finally, in despair, I set to work and outgrew it, and it was passed along to a younger relative, and I dare say some unhappy wretch is wearing it yet.

Doesn't it seem a shame that the Creator should have provided every other living thing free of charge with well fitting and self renewing clothing, and then left man, his latest and noblest work, to the mercy of clothiers? I never see a dog or cat without a feeling of envy. Just a lick and a shake and a scratch, and the toilet is complete, while we poor mortals wear out our lives tying and untying and buttoning and unbuttoning.

I think the way we are tyrannized and bullied by the makers of clothing is outrageous. We can't wear what we consider comfortable and appropriate and becoming, but we must wear just what they tell us, and no sooner do we lay in a stock of tight trousers and get broken in to their use than they issue an edict that baggy ones are the thing, and no sooner do we buy a covert coat which coyly displays the seat of the trousers than they switch us off on to newmarkets which drag on the ground. —From "A Few Remarks," by Simeon Ford. ALLIANCE

A recitation, "Comrades in Blue," was rendered by Miss Margaret Given, a granddaughter of Col. McClain, who had command of one of the companies that served with the first call troops.

J. E. Hanger, the Confederate soldier, who was a guest of the association, was called upon and made a few remarks. He said that it did not make any difference what our opinions were then, that he thanked God that we were now living under one government and one flag; and he tendered his heartfelt thanks to the association for the way he had been entertained by them since his arrival in the beautiful city of Coshocton.

After the remarks of Mr. Hanger the meeting was adjourned for supper. The W. R. C. had prepared a sumptuous repast for the old soldiers, and the tables were loaded down with plenty of good things to eat.

THE CAMP FIRE.

In the evening the Haight Concert band gave an excellent concert of stirring music. Their playing elicited universal commendation on the part of the visitors, who were loud in their praises.

Miss Brooks sang "Tenting Tonight," the choir joining in on the chorus.

A short speech by Col. John Conwell, of Cadiz, a veteran of two wars, was greatly enjoyed.

The program was interspersed by excellent music by the band.

J. E. Hanger was called upon and made a short, lively address.

Recitation—Miss Margaret Given. Music by choir, "Marching Through Georgia."

Rev. Mr. Miller, of Alliance, was called upon and made a short speech.

Song by choir, "When Johnny Came Marching Home."

Adjourned to meet at opera house Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock.

Lawsuit at Tiverton Center.

An interesting lawsuit was tried before Squire Barnes at Tiverton Center Monday. Day Brothers, who conduct a general store there, brought suit against John Bechtol on an account. E. A. Cunningham, of Knox county, represented the plaintiffs, and J. L. McDowell, of Coshocton, represented Mr. Bechtol. The jury went out at four o'clock after hearing heated arguments from both sides. They were unable to agree and came in at ten o'clock Monday night without a verdict.

BARGAINS

For the Balance of the Month and our Reason for giving them.

WHY WE DO SO.

There is a fine art of not putting things away that has all the world to do with good store-keeping.

There are still old-fashioned and otherwise good stores that pack goods away season after season until someone comes along to buy them.

No warning tags on them; no word from the salesman that they are not fresh; they are palmed off as new goods at full prices.

It is not our way. Our rule is: Sell this season's goods this season; put lower prices on them, if necessary, to sell them now.

This will explain to you the remarkable activity now in all parts of the store.

It will explain why so many reductions in prices are being made; why this whole space is given up to bargains.

It is simply a clearing of the decks to make ready for the fine fresh stocks that are coming in for the fall.

WHAT WE ARE GOING TO SELL.
